AGGIE WARRIORS ROUNDING INTO FORM

With Five Letter Men in Back Field and Four in the Line A. and M. Team Shows Up Well.

With five letter men in the back field, four letter men in the line, three who have won secondary letters and the rest of the squad of more than twenty men made up of former squad members and stars of the company, the A. and M. College coaches are fitting the Aggie football warriors to shape with rapid strides. The return of "Fannie" Coleman, whose toe work has made more than a victory a possibility for the Ags and who started the scoring for Farmers last year against the University of Texas, brought joy to hearts of Farmer fans and students. Coleman is an exceptionally good man on the defensive also and return has materially strengthened the Farmer eleven. For some time had thought of entering the University of Texas, but with the approach of the football season he decided to return to the college.

Another man whose presence in the Aggie line argues for victory for the College Station lads is big Jim Crow, tackle, of Waco. Crow had talked of going to Cornell, but he, too, decided to return to his first love. Crow is a tower of strength at tackle and a man who could not have been replaced. Newt Settegast of Houston at the other tackle gives the Aggies as good a pair of tackles as are to be found in the South.

There is a wealth of material for guards. Wilson, Edgar, Spencer, Scott, Eggar and Francis all stand around the 200-pound mark. Ford, McKnight, Booth and Montgomery are out for tackles and Anderson will be pitted against Joe Rogers, stellar performer at center, for that position.

Johnson, Shannon, Thornton, Givens, Eschenburg, Fry, Hamer, Fabian and Graham, all men of much squad experience, are out for ends. The backs will be contested for by Captain Rollins, Gillfillan, another "T" man who gives promise of making a record this year with the Farmers; Moses, Galliford, Doney, Griesenback, Cochran, Mitchell, a wearer of the "T," and others.

Sixty-one freshmen answered the call this week and had their first workout under the tutelage of Coach Bible. That number includes stars from Texas high schools and academies. Suits have been issued and the squads divided with reference to candidates for positions on the line and in the back field. A good, stiff workout is promised the new men this afternoon.

Scrimmaging for the varsity squad has begun. To date the men have been put through gruelling tests at signal workout and receiving passes, line plunging and other pre-season work. Coaches Harlan and Graves express themselves as being exceedingly well pleased with the football outlook for this season.

"I've been calling this number for five minutes," said the late subscriber. "What number?" "I'm so irritated I'm almost tempted not to satisfy your feminine curiosity."—Washington Star.

PEANUTS AS A FEED FOR HOGS

Interesting Experiments Conducted by the Experiment Station at the A. and M. College.

College Station, Texas, Oct. 2.—The peanut crop of Texas will be very large this year, and at this time farmers are considering the best and most profitable way of disposing of it. Experience has proved that it is more profitable to market feed crops through live stock than to sell them in the raw state. In the case of peanuts, however, it has been found that the meat of peanut-fed hogs is soft and oily and such hogs have been discriminated against in the markets. Since so many oil mills have been equipped to crush peanuts it has become possible to buy peanut meal and cake and there has been a widespread demand to know if the meat of hogs fattened on peanut cake or meal would be hard and firm and free from the objections to meat produced by feeding the whole peanut.

To answer this question the Texas Experiment Station conducted a feeding experiment at College Station. Sixty hogs of uniform age and weight were divided into six pens of ten hogs each and fed different rations for a period of 70 days. The rations fed were as follows:

Lot No. 1—Milo chops alone.
Lot No. 2—Milo chops and cotton seed meal in the ratio of 1 to 6.
Lot No. 3—Milo chops and tankage in the ratio of 1 to 10.
Lot No. 4—Milo chops and peanut meal in the ratio of 1 to 7.
Lot No. 5—Milo chops and peanut meal containing hulls in the ratio of 1 to 2½.
Lot No. 6—Milo chops and peanut meal in equal parts.

Careful record of amount and cost of gains of each lot were kept and when the hogs were sold the packing house kept accurate record of the dressed weight and quality of pork.

Mr. L. B. Burk, associate professor of animal husbandry of the A. and M.

College, who conducted the tests for the experiment station, is now embodying the results of the test in a bulletin which will be available at an early date. In the meantime he has authorized the statement that the hogs fattened on peanut meal made satisfactory gains and that their meat was not soft.

The importance of this announcement will be appreciated by the thousands of farmers with peanuts ready for harvest.

BRYAN BOY SELECTED.

Early Graham Gets Appointment to State Agricultural Department.

Mr. C. E. Graham of this city, who finished last year at A. and M. College, received notice Saturday that he had been appointed assistant entomologist of the state department of agriculture. The many friends of Mr. Graham will be delighted to hear of his appointment. He received notice to report for duty at Temple, Texas, to assist the department force in placing the state agricultural display at the Bell county fair, which is to be held at Midway, between Temple and Belton. Mr. Graham reported for duty there this morning.

BRYAN LADY SUCCESSFUL.

Miss Marian Foote will soon be seen riding in a brand new automobile which she secured in a nationwide contest in securing subscriptions to the Woman's World. Miss Foote worked hard and faithfully and her efforts were rewarded by her being the successful contestant for the car. She wishes to express her thanks to her many friends in the city and surrounding country for their support during the campaign.

How often things occur by mere chance which we dared not even to hope for.—Terence.

"Does your boy Josh know how to run the farm?" "Josh ain't supposed to bother with any triffin' detail like that," replied Farmer Cornsattel. "Josh is the only one that knows how to run our new automobile."—Washington Star.

A. AND M. DOWN TO BUSINESS.

Classes were in full swing at A. and M. College today. The formal opening exercises were rounded out Saturday, lessons assigned and work has begun in earnest. The enrollment has passed the 1100 mark. An unusually optimistic spirit prevails and President Bixell is expecting the best year in the history of the college.

PROF. BOLTON RETURNED.

F. C. Bolton, head of the department of electrical engineering at A. and M. College, has returned from Philadelphia, where he attended the annual meeting of the Illuminating Engineering Society. During his visit he inspected the University of Pennsylvania. At Pittsburgh Mr. Bolton was the guest of the A. and M. College Club of that city. There are thirty-six A. and M. College of Texas men in Pittsburgh. These men are in the employ of the Westinghouse Electric Company and other large engineering corporations.

"PAUL AS AN ORATOR."

Major W. G. Martin Addresses Bible Class at First Presbyterian.

"Paul As An Orator" was the subject of a pleasing, convincing five-minute talk to the Brotherhood Bible class of the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning by Major W. G. Martin of Allen Academy. In the short time allotted to him the speaker handled his subject in masterly style. This is the first of a series of short talks which the class is planning for the future.

Paul was described as the scholar-missionary of history, the world's greatest philosopher of his time and a school-trained reasoner and debater. He was a master of four languages and could and did address his different audiences in their own tongue. He was pre-eminently the teacher-preacher and his power lay in his simplicity. His greatest speeches were simply stories or narratives, and he became a witness rather than a pleader.
